COVID IN THE COMMUNITY UPDATE

Hanmer Springs Health Centre, Sunday 24th April 10.30pm

The number of COVID-19 positive cases reported over the last week was the highest so far in our community, with more than double the previous highest number.

These people will be self-isolating, as well as any household contacts living with them.

Household contacts need to have a Rapid Antigen Test (RAT) for COVID-19 on days 3 and 7 of their isolation.

if you are doing your own Rapid Antigen Testing record your results, whether positive or negative, by:

1. Going online and recording it at <https://my-covidrecord.nz>

OR

2. Calling 0800 222 478 and choose option 3

Let's remember to be kind and help others in these challenging times.

There are plenty of ways you can help friends and whanau who are self-isolating, such as:

- ✓ Contactless drop off supplies they need, like groceries, home baking or medicines
- ✓ Pick up rapid antigen tests on their behalf
- ✓ Give them a call on the phone and have a chat
- ✓ Talk about a plan in case they get sicker and how you may be able to help, like caring for pets

To help keep yourself well and minimise the spread of COVID-19 we encourage you to:

- ✓ If you have symptoms, book a FREE supervised Rapid Antigen Test and short consultation with us. Simply call our reception team on 03 315 7503.
- ✓ Wear a surgical or N95 mask and show your vaccination pass when asked to.
- ✓ Keep up healthy habits such as washing hands, physical distancing and staying home if you are sick.

We are contacting our positive patients, but whether you are registered with us or not - if you are feeling unwell or need to see us for any reason, please call us on 03 315 7503. We are here for all our community.

Take care.

classic chocolate cake

A good chocolate cake will never let you down. The little black dress of desserts doesn't need to be tricked up at all, but I do like to accessorise with just a few sprinkles on top.

Ingredients

75g butter, plus extra for greasing the baking tins

475g (2 cups) caster sugar

¼ cup vegetable oil

2 eggs

250ml milk

2 tsp vanilla extract

300g (2 cups) plain flour

1 cup unsweetened Dutch-process cocoa powder

2 tsp baking powder

1½ tsp bicarbonate of soda

1 tsp salt

¼ cup dark chocolate sprinkles

For the chocolate icing

250g butter, softened

400g icing sugar

½ cup unsweetened Dutch-process cocoa powder

50ml thickened cream

2 tsp vanilla extract

pinch of flake salt

Method

1. Heat your oven to 160C fan-forced (180C conventional). Grease and line the bases of 2 x 24cm round baking tins. With a stand mixer fitted with a paddle attachment, cream the butter and sugar together. Add vegetable oil, eggs, milk and vanilla and mix to combine.
 2. Sift the flour, cocoa, baking powder and bicarb into a separate bowl, then add the salt and mix together. Add dry ingredients to the wet and mix on low speed until just combined. Add 200ml of boiling water and mix for 30 seconds to combine. Divide the batter between the two cake tins and place on the same rack of your oven. Bake for 30-35 minutes until a skewer inserted into the cake comes out clean. Allow to cool for a few minutes, then turn out onto a rack and cool completely.
 3. For the icing, combine ingredients in the clean bowl of a stand mixer fitted with the whisk attachment. Combine on low speed for 1 minute, then beat at high speed for a further minute.
 4. To assemble cake, spread a layer of icing on one cake and invert the other on top. Spread top of the other cake generously and cover sides of the cakes as well. Scatter with sprinkles to serve.
- Richard's tip: Dutch-process cocoa powder is much darker in colour than other types of cocoa powder and will give your cake and icing a rich, luxurious colour. Look for it on the labels of major brands.

150 Reasons to visit Hurunui – tell us what’s your reason

Hurunui Tourism are creating the ultimate list of reasons (150 to be exact) for Kiwis to visit, with the help of the public and local personalities.

Visit Hurunui is calling on local tourism operators, residents and visitors to share their favourite reasons for visiting one of New Zealand’s best kept secrets.

Visit Hurunui marketing manager Shane Adcock says Hurunui is a region loved by all those who visit on various holidays and those who live in the region – and it is these reasons they are keen to collect.

“We’re looking for the best winery, hill walk, cafe, or even your favourite dairy because they have generous $1 mixtures! Maybe the greatest pie, mountain bike track or river swim because of the vista. We’re looking for your special reasons behind visiting – not the “tick the box” reasons.”

“It could be your favourite dairy because they serve up the biggest scoop? Perhaps it’s a motel in town with the plumpest cushions? Or is it the North Canterbury hospitality you get from the local tea rooms?”

From April 19 Visit Hurunui will be collecting 150 reasons to visit the region online. All those who submit a reason will go in the draw to win one of three epic holiday prize packages with a combined value of over $6,000.

The public are invited to submit their reasons today at visithurunui.co.nz and share their reasons to visit on Facebook and Instagram with the hashtag #150ReasonsHurunui.

Hurunui ambassador and Olympic mountain biker Anton Cooper says his reason to visit is the network of world-class mountain bike tracks located in the Hanmer Forest.

Anton Cooper features in the launch video, alongside broadcaster Chris Lynch and New Zealand netballer, Jane Watson.

Shane says to keep an eye out for the grand unveiling of this list in May.

“We’ve got a really exciting year ahead of us and a very big anniversary is looming for Hanmer Springs Thermal Pools and Spa. We want to have some fun and celebrate our region for all that makes it great. There might be a few surprises in the mix at the end of this process but that’s even better!”

Tag Visit Hurunui on Facebook and Instagram and be sure to use #150ReasonsHurunui.

There Comes A Time

Everything and everyone has a use-by date and I am coming ever closer to mine and the day when I shall have to hand The Pinkie along to someone else.

I feel like we have come a long way since the days of the cyclostyled sheet of pink paper cranked out on the Rabbit Board gestetner, through the days of printing it on the Business Association printer (which took up a large amount of space in my lounge room) then assembling and stapling it in on the kitchen table, and now, we have reached the stage where it is laid out on a state-of-the-art computer and professionally printed —plus the more recent innovation of also designing and setting up a website and distributing the publication to another approximately 750 plus people in addition to the 250 printed copies that go out each week through the Four Square and the gas station.

The situation is not desperate but I would rather act before it is, and over time show someone the ropes of bringing it out each week.

Ideally, whoever takes the reins next would need to have an interest in local affairs, history, both town and surrounds, and be able to liaise with local councillors, community board, businesses, clubs and organisations as well as people bringing events to Hanmer. You should be able to put a lucid sentence together and another great asset would be a sense of humour. (Not that I am claiming to possess all those skills.)

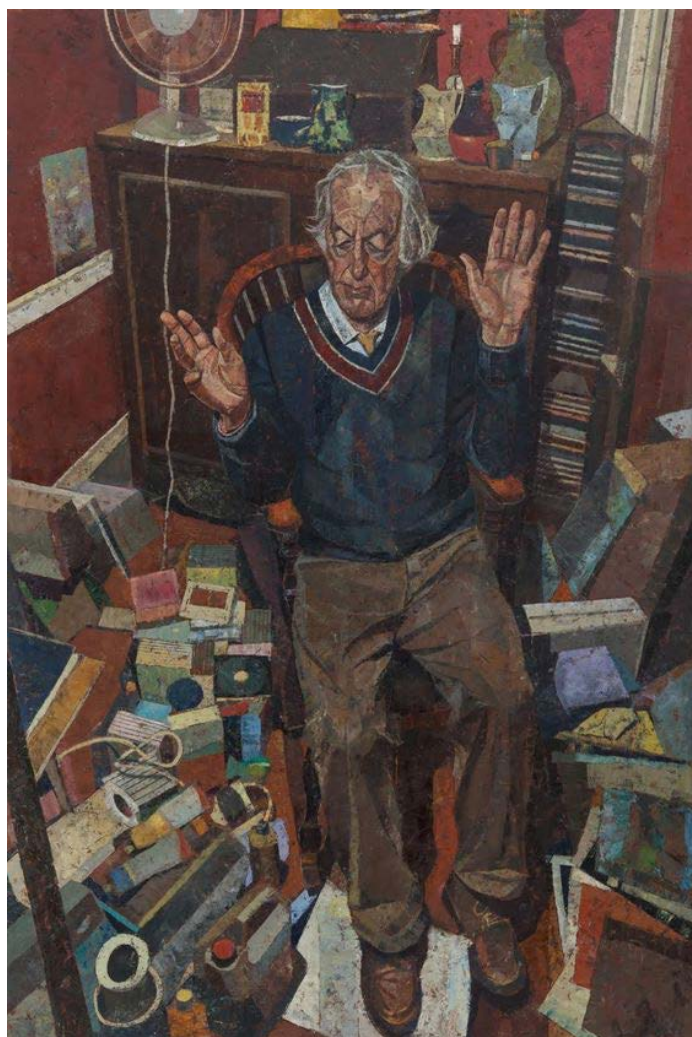

You should have twenty hours in the week which you can dedicate to the job, sometimes more and sometimes less. This would include not only putting the publication together and liaising with the website developers and the printers, but also sending out the monthly accounts - and if I can do the latter task, anyone can.

And speaking of accounts, your income will be strictly derived from the advertising billed out each month, less the few overheads there are, like paying the printer and utilities. What you end up with is what you earn and believe me it is a hell of lot better than the minimum wage.

For anybody who is genuinely interested I would go through all the figures in detail and for anybody who wanted to take it over I would stay on for up to six months to assist them in learning how to put the Pinkie together and work the systems I have in place.

The alternative is, come the end of the year, if nobody has expressed an interest I will more than likely have to close the publication down. That having happened someone would doubtless try and jump in the space, and judging by what attempted to compete with us in the past, we fear the consequences.

And of course I want something in return. Not a lot but I would like to recoup my investment in equipment (which would be passed on) and one or two other things.... that would be open for discussion.
