Straight Concrete Footpaths Welcome Visitors and Locals Alike!

Each year thousands of fellow countrymen and countrywomen, and children (not to mention our international visitors), come to visit the stunning natural environment we call home; Hanmer Springs.

Did you know that we're about to welcome them with a perfectly straight concrete footpath? Straight lines, and a material, that are never found in nature. Have you ever walked along a white concrete footpath in the midday sun? The glare is strong, dazzling and uncomfortable!

Some things I know. Amuri chip footpaths, if built right, are all weather and require only minor repairs after an earthquake. On the other hand concrete footpaths buckle and distort and require costly repairs; even with the inevitable tree root.

I will surrender to concrete, if you must, but please, NO straight lines! Even a minor meandering alignment will be better than straight.

Les Harris

It is with much sadness that we record the death of a long-time Hanmer resident Les Harris, of Woodbank Road. Les was very much a community man having worked at Queen Mary Hospital, was a long-term stalwart of the Fire Brigade, was one of the inaugural members of the Hanmer Men's Shed and was honoured by the Hanmer Springs Golf Club with a life membership for his untiring service to that organisation. Les had a cheeky sense of humour and was forthright and honest in his opinions.

He will be sadly missed by those who knew him.

fisherman's pie

Seafood is topped with creamy mash that blends into a rich sauce. Who says you shouldn't mix seafood and cheese?

Ingredients

150g hot-smoked salmon, broken into chunks
 400g fish fillets, cut into 5cm chunks
 400g good-quality marinara mix
 2 cups frozen peas
 2 tbsp finely shredded parsley
 2 tbsp finely shredded dill
 2 cups grated cheese
 Salt and white pepper, to season

Mornay sauce

60g butter
 1 onion, finely diced
 1/2 bulb fennel, finely diced
 1/4 cup plain flour
 1 cup milk
 1 cube fish or chicken stock
 2 cups grated cheese

Mashed potatoes

1kg potatoes, peeled and cut into chunks
 150ml thickened cream
 50g butter

Method

1. Heat your oven to 200C fan-forced (220C conventional). For the mornay sauce, heat a medium saucepan over medium heat and add butter, onion and fennel. Fry for about 2 minutes until softened. Add the flour and stir to cook for a further minute or two. Add the milk a little at a time and stir to create a thick sauce. Crumble in the stock cube and stir through the cheese until melted. Combine the sauce with the seafood, peas, parsley and dill, reserving a little of the herbs for garnish. Transfer to a large baking dish.
2. For the mashed potatoes, place the potatoes into a large saucepan and cover with cold water. Simmer for about 15 minutes until the potatoes are tender. Drain, return to the pot and mash with the cream and butter to a smooth mash. Season very well with salt and pepper.
3. Top the seafood filling with the mash and scatter with the cheese. Bake for 15-20 minutes until the cheese is melted and golden brown. Scatter with the remaining herbs and serve.

seafood chowder pot pies

Fish pie is about as comforting as food gets, and this simple no-fuss version is no exception.

Ingredients

600g peeled green prawns, chopped
 200g snapper fillet, chopped
 200g hot smoked salmon, flaked
 2 tbsp plain flour
 200ml creme fraiche
 kernels from 2 corn cobs
 1 leek, thinly sliced
 1 long green chilli, finely chopped
 1 tsp finely grated lemon zest
 2/3 cup fish stock, warmed
 4 sheets frozen butter puff pastry, thawed
 1 egg, lightly beaten

Method

1. Preheat the oven to 180C fan-forced (200C conventional). Place the prawns, snapper, salmon and flour in a bowl and gently toss to coat. Add the creme fraiche, corn, leek, chilli and lemon zest and mix to combine.
2. Season with salt and pepper and divide between 4 x 1 1/2 cup capacity ovenproof dishes. Top with stock.
3. Cut the pastry sheets into circles that are 3cm larger than the ramekins. Brush the ramekin edge with beaten egg to help it stick, press a pastry on top, then brush the top of the pastry with egg. Sprinkle with pepper.
4. Place on a baking tray and bake for 30 minutes, then serve.

To protect and share what we treasure.

The future of tourism in the Hurunui District has been formalised in a Plan that aims to grow and maintain the industry in a way that benefits communities, iwi, businesses and the environment.

The Hurunui Tourism Destination Management Plan (DMP) was adopted at the Hurunui Tourism Committee Meeting on Tuesday September 27th.

A Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (MBIE) initiative, it is aimed at guiding the future of tourism in communities.

Shane Adcock, Sales and Marketing manager for Hanmer Springs Thermal Pools & Spa and Hurunui Tourism, said as part of the funding provided by the Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (MBIE), Hurunui Tourism was tasked with developing a DMP for the District – as were Districts all around New Zealand.

Public community sessions were held in May, alongside online submissions as well as discussions with a range of stakeholders. Adcock said common themes emerged, which helped to shape the first draft of the Plan. Overall, feedback reflected that the community and the environment came first, followed by the need to make the most of the district's natural assets and ensure they are here for future generations to enjoy.

Adcock said the Hurunui District has a historical connection to supporting wellbeing.

“So perhaps it is unsurprising that the sentiment that came out of the community sessions, and the overall vision for the DMP, is ‘Hurunui is a place where visitors come to lift their spiritual, mental and physical wellbeing.’ In turn their visit enriches the health and wealth of our communities and environments.”

The first draft was presented to the Board in August, followed by further community feedback which created the final Plan draft which was adopted this week.

The Plan's Strategic Priorities are to; Become an Iconic Self-drive Destination, Enhance The Visitor Experience, develop Targeted Destination Marketing, and achieve Effective Destination Management.

“It's about protecting and sharing what we treasure,” said Adcock.

Mayor Marie Black was delighted with the support for the Plan, for a District that has been welcoming people for generations.

“Through creating the Destination Management Plan, we can better appreciate that a vital part of our future is to continue to embrace a holistic approach and grow our sustainable visitor economy.”

Mayor Black added that in recognising the unique features of the Hurunui District, there is also the recognition of the importance of manaakitanga, to embrace the District's visitors along with demonstrating the values of kaitiakitanga.

“In this way we will ensure we achieve the balance of our people, our communities and our environment.”

This Destination Management Plan has been developed through extensive discussions with the Hurunui community, and with partners and groups from within and outside the District. Mayor Black wished to acknowledge all who participated or were involved in the development of the Plan, in particular, the members of the advisory group who worked closely with Hurunui Tourism staff: Chevy Allen and Clint McConchie – Ngāti Kuri, Darron Charity – Select Contracts, James Caygill – Waka Kotahi NZ Transport Agency, Nicki Murray – Hurunui District Landcare Group, Nicola Kirby – Hurunui District Council, Briar Nash – Christchurch International Airport, Ian Wightwick – Department of Conservation, and consultants TRC Tourism in bringing this plan together.

“Whilst the formation of this Plan has been driven by Hurunui Tourism and Hurunui District Council, the Plan is owned by the District.”

Facts, The Hurunui District:

Geography: It begins at Leithfield Beach and extends to the Conway River south of the Kaikoura Peninsula. It is bordered on the west by the Southern Alps and on the east by the Pacific Ocean.

Finding a rural property needs to be easy

Locating a rural property must be an easy job for emergency services, and one solution is the Rural Address Property Identification (RAPID) system.

These are the blue plates with white numbers, mounted at the entrances of rural properties throughout the Hurunui District.

Culverden Fire Chief Craig Ritchie on behalf of Fire and Emergency New Zealand (FENZ) had worked alongside Hurunui District Council and dedicated an abundance of hours over the past 12 months to make sure rural people have the correct RAPID number at their gate.

To date, Ritchie has put a particular focus on the Amuri Basin and wider Culverden area, its dairy farming hub creating many shared driveways with multiple dwellings which can make location identification challenging. Nearly 600 RAPID numbers, which are based on the distance to a property entrance from a clearly defined reference point, have been assessed so far in the Amuri Basin, which is around 70% of the Basin's total.

So far, about 95% of the rural properties checked have needed assistance with the RAPID number.

"We can't just give someone a number without checking it's true and correct, therefore following up on the progress is a big part of the job," said Ritchie.

Council's planner Scott Rose has been working with Ritchie, and said many external agencies will benefit from the RAPID number system, such as LINZ, MainPower and the Police.

"It's a good accurate location system for everyone, whether you're telling a friend where you live, mail is being delivered, you're updating your medical records, or you have an emergency," said Rose. Bill Suckling lives on Inniskillen Drive, a newly named right-of-way off Isolated Hill Rd on the Amuri Plain.

Up this right-of-way are 10 dwellings, three dairy sheds across three farms, and 10 RAPID numbers. Suckling has owned Inniskillen Dairy Limited for 17 years, and saw huge benefit in having this numbering system revised recently.

"We used to all have the same RAPID number, nobody had any idea where they were unless there was the name of the farm."

Ritchie said FENZ also responds to St John 'purple' calls, which occur when the incident is immediately life-threatening, and the tell tail signs of danger such as smoke or flames are not always evident.

Rob Field lives in Hurunui and has been involved with St John since 2002, has a RAPID number on his own gate, and encourages all rural property owners in the District to make sure they have one too. "The key issue is multiple dwellings on one accessway, even with the best Google Maps you are still scrubbing around trying to find out which sleepout or house the patient is in," said Field. Ritchie said working together as a District is key.

"I believe the collaborative approach is the best approach, there is still a lot of work to be done."

To find out more about RAPID numbers, visit the website or ring Council and ask to speak to Scott Rose.

Keep New Zealand Beautiful.

This has now become an annual event and we as a school are pleased to be involved. Over the course of two days the whole school, students and staff went into the village and picked up litter. Here are some thoughts by the students. Some Aucklanders suggested we go up there and help them.

On Wednesday 28th September we went around the centre to keep NZ Beautiful. We collected a lot of rubbish, cigarettes, bottles and paper. It was fun picking it up. So if you see rubbish lying around, don't leave it, put it where it belongs and keep NZ Beautiful. Dylan Lester.

We walked around the village centre picking up rubbish. We went around the Hot Pools and Queen Mary Hospital. We wore gloves to protect us from Germs and put all the rubbish in bags. Everyone was in groups of four. The most common rubbish was bottles and cigarettes. We also found glad wrap, dirty nappies and more. Our village looks much cleaner now. Tazmin.

On Wednesday all the classes, Tui, Piwakawaka and Korimako went to different parts of the village including the village centre and Queen Mary Hospital. We had special gloves and bags to pick up the rubbish. The most things we picked up were, cigarettes, bottles, glad wrap and dirty nappies. After we finished the village looked magnificent not just to locals but everyone visiting. I am pleased to live in a Beautiful village. Aaliya.

Up In the Hills with Dad.

On Wednesday and Thursday I went out the back country hiking and looking for Stags. We spent the night at the Island Saddle Hut. There were 17 Chamois. They were all different shapes and sizes, with gold, brown and orange fur. Some fell and slipped down the scree, me and my dad laughed. It was really dark and we could see the stars shining in the sky. The moon was bright in the sky against the black background. When we drove to the hut we could see a possum. I decided to go for a walk. While I was walking along the fence I had a big Spotlight. I turned it on and saw a possum, it started hissing at me. It scared me and made me jump. I went back and went to sleep. The next morning we got up at 6:30 and left the hut. We were driving and saw heaps of rabbits when we got to the spot, we parked the truck then we started our long journey tramping. We saw heaps of geese on the way. When we arrived I had a little sleep, and later got up and went to stalk the stags. I saw some in amongst the outback. On returning to the hut I got warm and then went out again and cut down some trees for firewood. We made a nice fire, we cooked some yummy food then went to bed. Waking up at 7:30 in the morning we slowly walked back. After a long drive home I had a shower and changed. A great tramp. Blake James, Korimako.

Kids Lit Quiz

Writers: Tori Rowley and Amelia Saric

“Where’s Papa going with that axe?”, was the first question in the category entitled ‘Beginnings’ in the 2022 Kids Lit Quiz held in the Christchurch Public Library on Tuesday. Hanmer Springs School had a team of four avid readers competing against teams of four from around Canterbury for the right to go to Wellington for the National competition, the winner of that going onto the World Final.

Isaac, Alfie, Kaitlin and Amelia S were the four team members who put in a lot of reading and training time under the guidance of Tori Rowley. Hours spent in the library quizzing and learning paid off. Ten rounds of ten questions went fast. Our team held their own against the best readers in Christchurch and got 8 out of 10 in the ‘Ducks’ category. The team came 24th out of 35 teams, which we were pleased with.

I really enjoyed trying to answer all of the questions. I thought we did really well answering 8 out of 10 questions correctly in the ‘Ducks’ round. It was a fun day and we all really enjoyed it. Some of the questions were a bit tricky and they got us thinking about all of the books we have been reading.

Thanks to Donna Knight for coming along and providing, Carol Nelson who drove the van for the day and Amelia N who provided moral support as the reserve and got extra training for next year. A huge thank you as well to Tori Rowley from all of the team - we couldn’t have done this without your support and dedication to our training.
