Salmon and avocado soba noodle bowl

Cold soba noodles are a very popular summer dish in Japan, and are often eaten plain with a seasoned dipping sauce. This recipe boosts them with salmon and greens, making for a delicious light meal.

Ingredients

- 250g dried soba noodles
- 1 tbsp vegetable oil
- 2 salmon fillets (about 200g each)
- salt to season
- 1 avocado, diced
- a handful snow pea shoots

CHILLI AND LEMON DRESSING

- 5 cup vegetable stock
- 2 tbsp dry white wine
- 2 tbsp soy sauce
- 2 tbsp sesame oil
- 5 small red onion, finely diced
- 1 lebanese cucumber, peeled and cut into 5cm cubes
- 1 large red chilli, seeds removed and finely diced
- 1 cup finely shredded coriander
- 1 tsp sugar
- juice of 1 lemon

Method

- For the dressing, combine the vegetable stock and white wine in a saucepan over a medium heat and bring to a simmer, then remove from the heat. Add the remaining ingredients and mix well. Refrigerate until ready to use. Cook the soba according to the packet directions, then chill in iced water. Drain well. Heat a frying pan over medium heat and add the oil. Season the salmon fillets with salt and fry for about 3 minutes each side until the salmon is just cooked. Break the salmon into pieces. Divide the soba noodles between 4 plates or bowls. Top with the salmon pieces, the avocado and the snow pea shoots. Pour over the dressing and serve. Tip: If you want to try something different, eat soba noodles in the Japanese dipping style. Arrange the drained soba on a plate and place the dressing in a small bowl or cup. Pick up the noodles with chopsticks and dip them into the dressing before eating.

Turkish zucchini fritters with garlic yoghurt

Pair these fritters with a crunchy, flavour-packed salad and you won't need a main course. They also make great finger food for a party or picnic. For variety, swap the haloumi in the fritters with feta and add paprika or chilli flakes for a kick.

Ingredients

- 2 tsp sea salt
- 1.2kg zucchini, coarsely grated
- 1 cup thick Greek-style yoghurt
- 1 tsp finely grated lemon zest
- 1 small clove garlic, chopped
- small pinch of sea salt
- 200g haloumi cheese, finely grated
- 1/4 bunch dill, chopped
- freshly ground pepper
- 100g day-old white breadcrumbs
- 2 free-range eggs, lightly whisked
- 1 cup olive oil, for frying

Method

- TOSS SALT through zucchini and place in a sieve with a bowl underneath. Leave to drain for an hour. Place yoghurt and lemon zest in a bowl. Pound garlic and salt in a mortar with a pestle until a paste forms. Add this to the yoghurt then stir through. Reserve. SQUEEZE EXCESS MOISTURE from zucchini and place in a large bowl (you should have about 750g left). Add grated haloumi, dill, pepper, breadcrumbs and egg. Stir to combine; mixture should be dry enough to handle. Do not leave to sit for an extended time as more liquid may leech from the zucchini, making the mixture more difficult to handle (fry as soon as you've made the mixture). DIVIDE MIX into amounts a bit bigger than a golf ball and form into patties. HEAT OIL in a large non-stick frying pan over medium heat. Shallow fry for 2 minutes on each side or until golden brown and heated through. Serve fritters on a platter with lemon and garlic yoghurt.

Canterbury Duathlon.

On Monday Amelia S, Noah, Blake and Archie M travelled to Christchurch to compete in the Canterbury Schools Duathlon. In the Y7/8 race we had a 2km run and a 9km bike ride followed by a 1km run to finish. Archie in the Y5/6 race had a 2km run and a 6km bike ride followed by a 1km run to finish. It was a tough course because there were lots of people in the race and the last run was hard after being on the bike for so long. Everybody tried their best. Amelia came 34th, Noah came 82nd, Blake DNF due to bike issues and Archie came 24th. Thank you to Mr McBride and Kate for taking us down to Ruapuna raceway for this event.

Piwakawaka art.

We have been learning about different native NZ birds and have created some kiwi artwork. We used dye and salt to make our background. HANMER SPRINGS TRACK NETWORK GROUP

Mary Holloway

For many years a steady group of local people have worked away to develop a network of trails for walkers ,bikers and horse riders around Hanmer Springs. There has always been a vision to be a walking and riding destination, as well as providing that infrastructure for the folk who live here to enjoy a healthy active lifestyle.

The working group of 'users' consisting of the HS Mountain Bike Club, HS Horse riders and the Mt Isobel Tramping group liaise with The Heritage Forest Trust, Rayonier Forestry, Ngai Tahu , Matariki Forestry, the Department of Conservation and Hurunui District Council as well as the HS Community Board through which the tracks are funded.

The Governance Group (which includes all of the land-owners) meets four times a year, then the working group meeting separately. A 5 year Strategic Plan is devised and followed.

Mountain Bike trails form the key infrastructure, with a very active MTB Club core group putting in many volunteer hours into their trails. The Heritage Forest Trust also put a lot of time in and have created the iconic sculpture walk and a fully accessible trail. The Horse riding trails do not need as much work put in in terms of surfacing, but are this season going to be better sign-posted. Hanmer Springs Horse Riders are focussing on developing trails in the Rogerson catchment to avoid congestion with bikers, although they do have a loop that starts at Tarndale and follows through the Heritage Forest, up behind Conical Hill and down to Lucas Lane or out to Clarence Valley Road the on down to the Chatterton pack track. The trampers have created a new route over Mt Dumblane as have the riders, and the MTB Club are creating an up-hill off-road to eventually take them to Jacks Pass and beyond called the Clarence Valley Express. Weather events create a lot of maintenance work as well as weed control. For example, the Chatterton Pack Track is awaiting repair from not only a slip coming off the road but slumping due to the very wet weather lately. The TNG is incredibly grateful to the Council maintenance team, to Mark Inglis who as a trail co-ordinator for Hurunui Trails Trust works tirelessly for the cause, to Graeme Abbot who set us up with a facilitator to create a Strategic Plan, to Jason Fletcher who led the group for many years and made it a lot more business-like and to Michael Malthus, who long ago, in his capacity as Councillor and then Deputy Mayor got us all working together when the TNG was born.

China Adventure

By the time you read this I will be in Beijing. Then we move on to fulfil a long outstanding lecturing appointment at Hangzhou Normal University in Hangzhou, a few hours east of Shanghai.

I can hear some of you saying what about Cayo, our beautiful Chocolate Labrador. We will miss him desperately of course but friends and family are staying in our home and looking after him.

In Hangzhou I teach teachers how to teach Mathematics. They like my progressive style using practical real-life situations and problem solving. I have now been lecturing there, mostly online, for 4 years, and this is my second visit. Lorna too, is lecturing on Midwifery and childbirth research.

Hangzhou is a city of over 10 million people and is home to Ali Baba, the Chinese equivalent of Amazon, and used by many here in NZ. Amazingly the University Campus houses some 30,000 students and includes two train stations, a stadium seating 25,000, swimming pools, shops and multiple sports and leisure facilities. It took just 18 months to build, simply incredible.

Whilst in China I will also be representing Mayor Marie Black and Hurunui District Council at The Hubei Foreign Affairs Office International Mid-Autumn festival in Wuhan. I shall also be visiting Honghu our sister district and will undoubtedly visit Rewi Alley's museums and school.

I will attend all the council meetings on line from China, often and 5am!!!!

Great to see the Morgue being renovated on it's site near the Soldiers Blocks. It is well worthy of preservation. Councillor Tom Davies HDC. Tom.Davies@hurunui.govt.nz

Climate Change Should Be an Election Priority

The decisions our political representatives make today will determine whether we, our children and future generations get to live in a safe and stable climate and thriving environment.

With all the climate disasters that have unfolded in Aotearoa and around the world this year, you would think that climate change would be high on the political agenda.

But our political representatives aren't making urgent climate action a priority.

It's up to you to push that point home with them! It shouldn't be left to the Greens and Greenpeace to make the noise. It should be included in the policies of our mainstream political parties. It is not an issue that we can afford to ignore.

New Great Walk through Molesworth?

At this stage we are only talking election promises and we all know which heap they are likely to end up on. DOC have said they already have the Hanmer Spring to Kaikoura walk through Molesworth among their possible future 'Great Walks'.

The original plan was put forward by the Kaikoura Council, Te Rununga o Kaikoura and the Hurunui Council.

The walk would provide "extensive vistas on a massive landscape scale," with the proposal highlighting the "breathtaking views" of the Kaikōura Ranges, as well as the natural features of Lake McRae and the Waiau-toa/Clarence River.

Walkers could be based in Kaikōura or Hanmer Springs, which already had the tourist infrastructure to accommodate them.

If starting from Kaikōura, the walk would begin at the Kahutara River Bridge, on the Inland Kaikōura Road, and if starting from Hanmer Springs, the walk would begin near the Acheron Accommodation House.

There was also the possibility of creating a loop track by linking the two ends of the walk with a two-day rafting experience on the Waiau-toa/Clarence River, the proposal said.

At 80km, it would be one of the longer Great Walks, up there with the Whanganui Journey – a 145km canoe trip down the Whanganui River – and the 78.4km Heaphy Track in Kahurangi National Park.

Destination Kaikōura manager Lisa Bond said the walk would be an "incredible asset" for the region, as well as the neighbouring Hurunui and Marlborough districts.

"This Great Walk would add to the variety of walking and cycling routes already established throughout all three districts."

Visit Hurunui marketing manager Shane Adcock was similarly hopeful the region would benefit if the upgraded track came to fruition.

It would be the only one of the country's walks on the east coast of the South Island and if it comes to fruition will certainly be a boost to Hanmer's tourist numbers

Email Links and Accounts

Since the advent of MYOB scrapping their 'Essentials' programme and introducing something unworkable for a Mac we have placed our accounting in the capable hands of Debbie Williamson who is now invoicing out through Xero. We think we got it all right this month, albeit a couple of days late.

Debbie stepped in at the last minute and had us set up with the new software and all the accounts emailed out within 12 hours of our asking her for help. So many thanks go to Debbie, who we would recommend to anyone looking for someone to tend to their bookwork. (0275 333497).

For years we have had hassles trying to get the electronic version of the Pinkie into the hands of our readers. Firstly we were emailing the whole publication but as the list grew that fell afoul of lots of people's Spam filters. We then moved to producing a website and had The Pinkie put up on there every Monday morning and emailed a link through Xtra. Xtra then decided that nobody was allowed to send out more than 50 emails a day. Not that they told us. So last week in a Kafkaesque move we were punished for a crime we didn't know existed and shut down completely for 36 hours. We spent hours on the xtra hotline trying to get the bar removed and find out just how we could get our message out.

'Why don't you use the Commercial email service?' someone asked.

Nobody ever told us you had one. So we phoned the mandatory number made the enquiry and were set up as a commercial customer within the hour. Will we be able to send out six or seven hundred emails in batches, we asked.. Heaps more than that and all in one go, they told us. So fingers crossed that system continues to work. What used to take two hours mailing out the link in batches on Monday morning only took 30 seconds this week.

As we said fingers crossed.

So bearing in mind that we are using two new systems, please let us know if there are any glitches from your end.

The Hanmer Springs Fete is fast approaching!

Friday the 27th of October will see the Queen Mary Hospital Grounds transformed! With over 400 applications from Stallholders all over New Zealand, it was incredibly hard to narrow it down to the 190 successful exhibitors. We have hand selected each and every business based on their individual merits and can't wait for you to see them all on Fete day.

This year we have kept the popular extended layout seeing the Fete extending from the Chisholm Block right down to the Nurses Hostel. You can choose to enter through one of two gates. The first is on Jacks Pass Road, opposite the Powerhouse Cafe, and the second near the Soldiers Block, just past the Thermal Pools. Gates will open at 10am and you can expect a day filled with fabulous stallholders, delicious food and drinks as well as wonderful live music. So bring your shopping bags, comfortable shoes and shopping list. We can't wait to see you there!

You can pre-purchase your tickets online at www.hanmerspringsfete.co.nz or on the gate on the day.

Mens Shed

A beautifully designed wooden garden trug that looks as though it comes from an interior designer is a new Mens Shed line along with their 'whale' stirring paddles. All this plus the popular bird feeders and more will be featuring in a stall at the markets this which probably start next month. The Pinkie dropped in on their AGM last week. There are now about 15 to 20 members, it fluctuates but it seems the same core remains their strength. Much of the AGM was discussing expansion and storage and the group are trying to keep ahead of expansion progress in a gentlemanly laid-back manner.

We will enquire about the price of the trug which is utilitarian but handsome.

Pinkie Is On The Market

Reluctantly, Richard is placing the Pinkie on the market for sale.

Due to financial circumstances beyond his control The Pinkie will be available for purchase. If you are interested you can call Richard on 0274 337 420 to discuss terms with him. There is the possibility of Richard leaving some money in the business or having the sale amount paid off in two or three hits. Richard has spent about 16 years of building the publication up from a cyclostyled sheet to a 20 page colour magazine with its own website and its electronic edition and a circulation list in excess of 800 per week., all of which are included in this forced sale.

The New Zealand Tourism Awards 2023 finalists have been announced!

Pool Amongst Employer Nominees

The awards, presented by Tourism Industry Aotearoa (TIA), showcase and celebrate the very best of New Zealand tourism's individual and business successes.

Congratulations to all the finalists as listed below. Winners will be announced in person at an Awards gala dinner on 7 November in Te Whanganui-a-Tara Wellington, following Tourism Summit Aotearoa.

This year's judges said that overall, the entries painted a very compelling picture about the resilience of the tourism industry.

Some categories were closely fought and there were mentions made of "impressive reinventions" as well as careful thought given to the evidence supplied.

Judges were particularly taken with tourism operators establishing their social licence.

"What I particularly liked was how they translated the shift they've made in their markets to sharing the benefits with the local community," a judge said of one entrant.

TIA Chief Executive Rebecca Ingram says the industry was moving from strength to strength.

"The finalists are a showcase of grit, ambition, and positive contribution. Their achievements are testament to the quality of tourism leaders across the industry and their ability to innovate."

Three of the awards will acknowledge outstanding performers in the industry, and ten awards recognise business excellence, industry alignment and values that are in line with the Tourism Sustainability Commitment.

The finalists are...

Tourism Industry New Zealand Trust Community Engagement Award 2023

- EcoZip Adventures
- MDA Experiences
- Visit Ruapehu & Waihuia Ventures Ltd

Tourism Talent Employer of Choice Award 2023

- Christchurch Airport

Why you must come to see What we did on our holiday

Impossible not to enjoy this big-hearted and sweet-natured British family movie from Andy Hamilton and Guy Jenkin with incredibly funny semi-improvised dialogue from the children. It creates a terrifically ambitious (and unexpected) narrative with a tonne of sharp gags. David Tennant and Rosamund Pike are Doug and Abi, the troubled parents of three boisterous kids: they're heading up to Scotland for the 75th birthday of Doug's unwell dad, Gordy (Billy Connolly), which means staying with Doug's uptight brother, Gavin (Ben Miller), and his depressed wife, Margaret (an excellent Amelia Bullmore).

Jess: Then the policemen comes.

Abi: That was just a misunderstanding, sweetheart.

Doug: Sometimes when grown-ups discuss things very loudly, people will get the wrong ideas.

Mickey: He let me play with his taser.

Doug: Well, he didn't let you.

Mickey: He didn't say I couldn't.

Jess: Does electricity feel nice, daddy?

Doug: No, not nice...

Jenkin and Hamilton have created a very clever script, with laughs and subtleties: could there be a connection in Gordy's mind between the own goal in football and the wartime friendly fire that caused a family tragedy? Very impressive and likable stuff.

So what are you waiting for – get a bunch of friends together and support the Hanmer Springs Community Cinema non-profit initiative.

Hot snacks, popcorn, lollies, chocolate & soft drinks available for purchase – cash only, no eft pos available.
