Summer Hours at the Pools

On Monday 13 November, the Pools will be moving to their summer hours of 10am to 9pm. Recruitment of staff for summer has been better this year than last year, so they are able to move to summer hours earlier than expected.

They say they are not sure how long they will be able to operate summer hours. The intention is to keep summer hours until Easter weekend but that will depend entirely on staffing levels.

Price Increase

Also on 13 November, we will be making a small increase to our pools entry prices, and our spa treatments. Single adult entry will increase from $38 to $40, and children from $22 to $23. Other prices like mini group passes, return passes and two-day entry will rise in line with these increases.

We do still have our PoolsPlus Programme (20% discount on entry), Resident/Ratepayer Card (50% discount), and Annual Swim Pass options.

If you have any questions, please send them an email at info@hanmersprings.co.nz.

HANMER SPRINGS FOODBANK

Did you know there is a "Foodbank" in Hanmer Springs that has funds available to help those that are struggling at the moment. This Foodbank money has been made available from generous donations by the Hanmer Springs community. A Four Square grocery voucher will be given to those eligible. If you, or you know someone that lives in the Hanmer Springs community that may be eligible please email:

hscommunitytrust@gmail.com and we will send you an application form. All applicants will be held in strict confidence. Or, perhaps you may like to make a donation to help those less fortunate. A suggestion could be that you round up your next Hanmer Springs Four Square shop by making a monetary donation to the Foodbank account? Please ask the friendly checkout operator next time you are shopping.

Thai noodles with egg ribbons

This Thai noodle stir-fry is the answer to the perpetual question – what's for dinner tonight? I know you have eggs in the fridge. I know you have a packet of dried noodles somewhere in the dark depths of your pantry. Use whatever (cook-able) vegetables you can find. And I think there's a strong chance you have everything you need for the sauce. (If not, get them once and make this

Ingredients

- 160g dried bean vermicelli noodles, soaked in boiling water for 5 minutes then drained (or noodles of your choice)
- 6 eggs
- 1 tsp salt
- 2 tbsp peanut oil (or other neutral oil)
- 1 onion, finely sliced
- 2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
- 1 red capsicum, cut into 7mm strips
- 1 bunch Chinese broccoli (gai laan; about 6 stems), cut into 10cm lengths, stems separated from leaves
- SAUCE
- 2 tbsp oyster sauce
- 2 tbsp fish sauce
- 2 tsp dark soy sauce
- 1 tbsp white sugar
- 1 tbsp peanut oil

Method

- Step 1
Whisk together eggs and salt. Heat 5 tablespoons of the oil in a 30cm nonstick frying pan over high heat. Pour in half the egg, swirl to spread, cook until surface is set, slide out onto cutting board. Repeat with another 5 tablespoons of oil and remaining egg. When cool enough to handle, roll up and slice into 1cm-wide strips – egg ribbons!
- Step 2
Heat the last 1 tablespoon of oil. Cook onion, garlic, capsicum and gai laan stems for 1 minute. Add gai laan leaves and toss for 1 minute. Add noodles then pour the sauce over. Toss for a good 2 minutes to allow the sauce to soak into the noodles and get a bit of caramelisation on them.
- Step 3
Finally, gently toss through the egg ribbons. Some will break – that's OK! Serve immediately.

Mexican Fish Stew

Everybody knows fish is good for you and we need to eat more of it. Here's an easy way to cook fish that's quick and cosy: in a chunky Mexican-inspired broth. The thing with fish stew is that it has to be quick to make – otherwise, you'll overcook the fish.

Ingredients

- 2 tbsp extra virgin olive oil
- 1 onion, finely diced
- 2 garlic cloves, finely chopped
- 2 tsp dried oregano
- 100g can of chipotles in adobo sauce
- 400g can crushed tomato
- 1 litre salt-reduced vegetable stock
- 1 tsp cooking salt
- 2 potatoes (300g each), peeled and cut into 1.2cm cubes
- 6 corn cobbettes (thaw if frozen)
- 400g can black beans, drained
- 2 x 300g snapper, barramundi or basa fillets, cut into 5cm pieces
- ½ cup roughly chopped coriander leaves, 1 tbsp lime juice (plus extra wedges to serve)

Method

- Step 1
Heat the olive oil in a large pot over medium-high heat. Add the onion, garlic, oregano and chipotles in adobo (chillies and sauce) and cook for 2 minutes while stirring.
- Step 2
Add tomato, stock and salt and bring to a simmer. Cook for 3 minutes, then blitz until smooth using a stick blender.
- Step 3
Add potato and corn to the sauce and simmer for 10 minutes.
- Step 4
Stir in the black beans.
- Step 5
Place the fish pieces on top of the sauce. Don't stir them in. Return the sauce to a simmer, cover with a lid and cook for 5 minutes.
- Step 6
Once the fish is cooked (check to see that it flakes), add the coriander and lime juice.
- Step 7
Gently push the fish under the sauce, then ladle into bowls, garnished with extra coriander leaves. Serve extra lime wedges alongside.

Challenging start for the black-fronted terns

The black-fronted tern season has slowly but surely started to kick off over the last couple of weeks.

As birds colonise, build their nests and start to lay eggs, they have had to persevere through rain, increasing river flow, sleet, snow, and extreme winds that have blown trees over colonies! These birds are dedicated parents, that's for sure!

During a helicopter survey on the Clarence and Acheron rivers, a total of 19 colonies were found with an estimated tern count of 370 individuals on the Clarence and 82 on the Acheron River.

Each week more nests with eggs are found at each colony site and currently range from 1 – 29 active nests per colony. Our current nest count is at 112 nests with plenty more to find.

We have spotted our first banded dotterel chick for the season along with many South Island pied oystercatcher nests.

Luckily no major predation events have occurred, and most colonies have been able to withstand moderate flood events this Spring.

Part of our monitoring includes identifying banded birds and reading the two-digit code on the yellow flag band. Recently, JX was spotted at a colony. This bird was banded as a chick on the Clarence River in 2016 making this bird 7 years old.

If any keen photographers manage to capture a band reading on one of these birds, please share this epic find with me via email.

Baylee Connor-McClean of Wildlife Management International has moved back to Hanmer Springs for the summer season. She has spent the last 5 summers here monitoring the nationally endangered black-fronted tern population that nests along the Waiou Toa/ Clarence River each season. Baylee has offered the Pinkie a chance to follow the progress of these breeding colonies month by month. Here is the second of her reports.

Tsarina Is On a Mission

Hanmer local Tsarina Dellow is on a mission to share her knowledge and experience of supporting business owners throughout North Canterbury to build on their strengths, remove barriers and to tackle the challenges of business ownership.

As a Director of Shore Dellow Accountants Limited, Tsarina works alongside business partner Ben Shore to provide accounting expertise, tax planning and cashflow management advice to a growing number of clients, enabling local business to continue to enrich the community through the provision of their goods, services, employment and networks.

Being local small business owners themselves, Tsarina and Ben know the unique experiences faced by North Canterbury's small businesses, and understand what's needed to help our local businesses grow and succeed financially, whilst also being able to provide a more personal touch. Tsarina splits her week between the office in Amberley and her home office in Hanmer Springs, regularly meeting with clients face to face to discuss their accounting needs and to give valuable advise on business financial strategies.

The Shore Dellow Accountants team is small but mighty! Ben has over 20 years of experience as an accountant, with over 10 years as a business owner himself. Ben's aim is to help local businesses grow financially and achieve their lifestyle goals. He's a passionate cricket and rugby supporter and gets stuck in with community sports clubs and projects. Ben and Tsarina are supported in the office by their administrator Georgie Heath-Johnson who has been so inspired by their passion for accounting that she's working towards her own accounting degree.

The team provides accounting service plans for clients which are tailored to the requirements of each business, using cloud based accounting through Xero which enables them to have their finger on the pulse of your business, and to give assistance when needed. From GST returns and regular management reports to Annual Accounts, Shore Dellow Accounting support a wide range of businesses with tax compliance and advisory needs.

Tsarina's drive to help others succeed flows through to her voluntary roles. A background with the Hanmer Springs Health Centre and as St John volunteer make Tsarina the ideal person to chair the Community Wellbeing North Canterbury Trust, which supports local whānau with free wellbeing services. She is also the Community Representative for Waitaha Primary Health Organisation.

If you're in need of an accountant that understands your business to work with you towards financial success, get in touch with Tsarina on 027 341 3533 or tsarina@sdal.co.nz

Pinkie Report

Term 4 Week 5.

Journalists - Amelia Saric, Rosie Abbott, Amelia Nelson, Sharnie Inglis, Charlie Bryant, Kiara Bratschi

Golf Ball Drop.

On Sunday we had the Home and School golf ball drop, where the helicopter from Amuri Helicopters dropped 1000 golf balls from the air. The ball that ended up either in the hole or the closest one is the winner. In third place, winning a $200 Four Square voucher was Sarah Miller; in second place winning $500 was Mel Roborgh and in first place winning $1000 was Pooja Joglekar. Well done to all of the winners. The Grimm-Leuwer family had the ball that dropped furthest from the hole. Thank you to the sponsors for this event - Amuri Helicopters, Hanmer Springs Four Square, Harcourts and the Hanmer Springs Golf Club. Congratulations to Bridie and her family and Levi who sold the most tickets. They both sold 71 tickets, so they both receive a free helicopter ride. Thank you to the generosity of Amuri Helicopters.

Hurunui Athletics.

On Wednesday a group of students went to the Hurunui Athletics. To qualify for the Hurunui Athletics you had to either come first or second in an event at our school athletics day. Everybody did a great job and tried their best. Marley won the Y8 boy 100 metre sprint and Waitapu won the Y7 girl shot put so they are both off to the Canterbury Athletics where they compete against the best in Canterbury.

Year 8 Jet boat ride.

On Friday the Year 8s went for a ride on the jet boats with Amuri Jet, as part of our Y8 leavers' activities. We zoomed down the river, we did lots of 360s and got close to the rocks. When we turned around to go back up we stopped at Marble Point next to a rock that looked like a dog. The guide explained that this was a fault line that you can see from the river. Then we carried on up the river all the way past the bridge. We didn't get to see anyone bungee jumping. We would like to thank Amuri Jet for giving us this ride for free.

Diwali Celebrations.

On Friday we celebrated Diwali which is the Indian festival of lights. It celebrates light over dark or good over evil. Some parents created a beautiful rangoli at the school entrance and classes learnt how to do rangoli as well. We also had Diwali tables in our classrooms with lamps and flowers. Piwakawaka class made diya lamps and Tui class made lanterns. Our Indian school community brought in Indian food for lunch, which we all really enjoyed eating as it was so delicious. In assembly we listened to the Indian National Anthem and some students shared Indian dances with us. We all enjoyed our Diwali celebrations and have learnt more about this special festival.

More of Chitty Chitty Bang Bang

As per usual The Pinkie took its pics of the Amuri Players production of Chitty Chitty Bang Bang at the dress rehearsals. What they didn't tell us was that there were two casts for the leading roles. The night we were there it was Rosie Abbott and Archie Manion but there were two others that didn't get the star treatment in The Pinkie. Here pictured above are the two other protagonists who filled the roles. They are Isabella Godfrey-Grant and Oskar Schuurman.

The Pinkie editor was certainly apprised of the situation (several times) when the last issue appeared with only two of the four stars. Great work guys.

Exploding a Few Myths About EVs

Electric vehicles (EVs) significantly cut lifecycle greenhouse gas emissions in almost all circumstances and are the key technology for decarbonising road transport.

This means EVs are “likely crucial” for tackling transport emissions, according to the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC).

EV sales are growing fast, accounting for one in every seven cars sold globally in 2022 – up from one-in-70 just five years earlier.

Yet EVs are also being subjected to relentless hostile reporting across mainstream media in many major economies, including NZ

HANMER SINGS Adults Choir

Come and raise the roof with us! We are a super-friendly and welcoming bunch who simply love singing. We sing a wide variety of songs (always open to requests!) while learning harmonies and singing techniques.

Hanmer Sings is FREE! The more the merrier! Donations are optional.
